The City of Charlottesville is located in West Central Virginia, approximately 100 miles southwest of Washington, D.C. and 70 miles northwest of Richmond, Virginia. Situated within the upper Piedmont Plateau at the foothills of the Blue Ridge Mountains and at the headwaters of the Rivanna River, Charlottesville was established as a town in 1762 by the Virginia General Assembly and was incorporated as an independent city in 1888. As a result of eight annexations, the most recent of which was in 1968, the City is 10.4 square miles.

Charlottesville serves as the economic, cultural, and educational center of a multi-county region. In 1981, the United States Census Bureau recognized the Charlottesville area as a Standard Metropolitan Statistical Area (SMSA). The SMSA includes the City of Charlottesville and the counties of Albemarle, Fluvanna, Greene, and Nelson. In 2017, the population of the City was estimated to be approximately 49,000 and the Charlottesville SMSA population of over 200,000.

Charlottesville was the home of two U.S. Presidents, Thomas Jefferson and James Monroe. During their terms as Governor of Virginia, they lived in Charlottesville and traveled to and from Richmond. The University of Virginia, founded by Jefferson and one of the original Public Ivies, straddles the city’s southwestern border. Monticello is three miles southeast of the city and is, along with the University of Virginia, a UNESCO World Heritage Site, attracting thousands of tourists every year.

The City has ample health care resources. The University of Virginia’s Health Sciences Center provides world renowned medical research, health care, and training. Martha Jefferson Hospital has a well-regarded comprehensive women’s health center, oncology center, and a strong community focus.

Whether you are looking for an outdoor adventure such as hiking, biking, paddling, and camping, or you prefer fine dining, shopping or the arts, the unique and picturesque experience of Charlottesville is sure to win you over. The nearby Shenandoah National Park, area rivers, forests, and regional ski areas provide opportunities for people to enjoy the outdoors at any level of commitment or ability. For sports fans, UVA athletic teams compete in the Atlantic Coast Conference. University teams have achieved high national rankings in many sports.

Charlottesville is strategically located for many major employers. The University of Virginia is the City’s largest employer, with over 17,000 employees between the university and hospital staffs. Other major employers in the City of Charlottesville include S&P Financial, LexisNexis, WorldStrides, and the CFA Institute.

Charlottesville is a diverse community with 20% of the population being African-American citizens, as well as a growing Hispanic population. There is a wide variety of housing stock, ranging from upscale historic homes to colonials and condominiums. The City has received many notable awards and recognitions and is consistently at the top of everyone's "best lists" including the "Best Place to Live in America" and "Best Small Cities in the U.S." The area is often noted for the beautiful homes and superior living environment in the area. Charlottesville is a unique community and is an ideal place in which to live, work, and play.

City Government

The City operates under the City Manager/Council form of government. The City of Charlottesville voters elect a five-member Council to serve at-large as the City’s legislative and governing body. Members serve staggered four-year terms, and they select one Councilor to serve as Mayor and one as Vice-Mayor for two years. Municipal elections are held in November in odd-numbered years. The Mayor presides over meetings, calls special meetings, and serves as the ceremonial head of government.

The City Council appoints the City Manager, Director of Finance, City Assessor, Clerk of Council and members of major policy-making Boards and Commissions. Council makes policy in the areas of city planning and finances, human services, public safety and justice, public utilities, and transportation and has specific powers to pass ordinances, levy taxes, collect revenues, adopt a budget, make appropriations, issue bonds, borrow money, and provide for the payment of public debts. Administrative and executive duties are performed by the City Manager. Two Deputy City Managers assist the City Manager in the operational and financial aspects of all City functions, coordinate interdepartmental activities and assist with assignments relating to the planning, direction, control, evaluation of the operations and programs of the City Government, relations with City Council, and the coordination of the City’s operating and capital improvement budgets.

Charlottesville is an engaged community with a variety of citizen advisory groups, commissions, task forces, and ad hoc committees, which assist the City Council by studying specialized areas of interest and making recommendations for Council action. These range from the Planning Commission and the BAR to the Parks and Recreation Commission. As noted, civic engagement is a strong value in the City of Charlottesville. The City government continually creates venues for all citizens, with a special emphasis on those who are traditionally under-represented in civic processes, to become involved. This commitment to inclusive civic engagement ensures that social equity is built into the development of public priorities and policies.

The City is a full-service city with approximately 994 full-time staff, and FY 2019-20 General Fund operating budget of $188.8 million, and an FY 2019-20 Capital Improvement Plan budget of $35.4 million. The FY 2019-20 budget reflects the continued delivery of high-quality governmental service that citizens, businesses, and visitors rely upon daily within the constraints of the current economy. As an independent City, Charlottesville does not have the same boundaries as nor is subject to taxation by any county and is not liable for any county debt. The City is financially stable and has a AAA bond rating.

The strategic direction of the Charlottesville City Council is clearly stated in the City’s 2025 Vision, which calls for the City to be:

A leader in innovation, environmental sustainability, social and economic justice and healthy race relations, flexible and progressive in anticipating and responding to the needs of the citizens, the cultural and creative capital of Central Virginia, and a united community that treasures diversity.
